Blade and Disc Holder

BDH-2

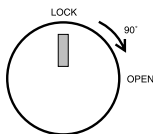

The Cuisinart® Blade and Disc Holder provides convenient, accessible and safe storage of all Cuisinart® Food Processor (except DLC-X, DLC-XP, DLC-5 and LPP models) accessories. The unit holds: one stainless steel blade, one plastic or metal dough blade, one detachable disc stem, and three food processor discs.

The transparent cover locks to the base with a tamper and child-resistant lock that will not open if the Blade and Disc Holder should tip over.

All blades and discs, like sharp knives, should be stored out of the reach of children.

The compact Blade and Disc Holder can be used alone or in combination with the Cuisinart® Disc Holder (model # DH-4).

OPERATING THE LOCK

To open the child-resistant lock, pull the knob out toward you and turn clockwise 90°. This sequence will unlock the lock. Gently lift up the transparent cover. Do not force the cover open when the knob is in the “locked” position. The knob will automatically return to the locked position when the cover is closed.

CAUTION: Do not twist the lock back to the “locked” position when the transparent cover is open, as doing so may break the lock.

INSERTING ACCESSORIES

The Blade and Disc Holder stores a metal blade in the left triangular cavity and a plastic or metal dough blade in the lower center triangular cavity. Hold each piece carefully by the center hub, and insert with its upper blade facing down. WARNING: DO NOT TOUCH METAL BLADE, AS DOING SO MAY RESULT IN INJURY.

The detachable disc stem fits in the round opening in the upper center section of the Blade and Disc Holder. Insert the disc stem face down, with the rounded left side of the semi-circular connector towards the back.

Icons embossed on the inside surface of the Blade and Disc Holder show proper placement of the blades and detachable disc stem.

INSERTING AND REMOVING DISCS

INSERTING DISCS

There are three disc slots on the right side of the Blade and Disc Holder. Each slot holds one food processor disc securely, with disc cutting blade totally protected behind a plastic barrier. To insert a disc, hold it so the cutting side faces left and the disc stem connector side faces right. Grasp the disc by placing your thumb on the edge of the disc and your fingers under the center lock on the stem attachment plate.

This positions the disc for correct insertion into the holder. WARNING: CUTTING EDGES OF FOOD PROCESSOR DISCS ARE VERY SHARP. ALWAYS KEEP FINGERS AWAY FROM SHARP SIDE.

Never try to force a disc into the holder.

If inserted correctly, the disc will slide easily into the slot. Slide the disc straight into a slot. The disc will slip securely into place, with its cutting blade behind the plastic barrier. Discs will sit correctly and safely only when inserted in this manner.

Note: Discs with fixed stems will not fit into the Blade and Disc Holder.

REMOVING DISCS

To remove a disc, grasp the disc by placing your thumb on the edge of the disc and your fingers under the center lock on the stem attachment plate. Pull the disc straight out.

CONNECTING TO DISC HOLDER

For expanded storage capacity, the Cuisinart® Blade and Disc Holder can be used with the Cuisinart® Disc Holder (model DH-4). The two holders were designed with similar lines and curves to create an attractive storage center when placed side by side. You can create any combination of Blade and Disc Holders and Disc Holders to suit your food processor accessory storage needs.

CLEANING AND CARE

The Blade and Disc Holder is made of a high-impact plastic that has a smooth, easy-to-clean surface. Occasionally wipe your Blade and Disc Holder with a cloth or sponge that has been dipped in warm soapy water. To remove stubborn spots, use a mild soap solution, then wipe with a damp sponge. Do not put the Blade and Disc Holder in the dishwasher. Blades, disc stem and discs should always be clean when they are put into the Blade and Disc Holder. The Blade and Disc Holder is not meant for temporary storage of soiled blades between periods of use.
